Notes

The Planning Commission held training on a mock land use application where they held numerous discussions on how things would work with the code and what portions of the code actually were driving to achieve. This was a very productive session for the group was able to sit in staff's shoes for a bit to try and figure out what each code section meant.

The Planning Commission finished the training and briefly discussed the Strategic Plan. Commissioner Deborah Rogge provided the group with some examples of items to start with on the Strategic Plan.
